

Monitoring & Evaluation of the CHANGE Project

Silke Steinhilber

Meeting of Project
Partners, 9 July 2013

Content of the presentation

-  Introduction of external evaluator
-  Framework for evaluation of CHANGE project and evaluation plan
-  Questions for conversation/reflection

My approach

- Respectful, transparent and partner oriented
Agreement on purpose of monitoring and evaluation with project partners
Agreement on methods and timing of evaluation with partners
- Open to exchange and feedback
M & E should be useful to partners over the course of implementation regular reporting to project coordinator and partners
- Culturally sensitive and gender sensitive
- Partial: empowering women and girls

Framework for evaluation of CHANGE project

- Criteria and main questions for evaluation
  - relevance
  - effectiveness
  - efficiency
  - impact
  - sustainability, transferability
  - implementation
- See table „Monitoring and Evaluation Framework“

Evaluation methods

- written questionnaires
- interviews
- participant observation
- desk study of project material and publications

Evaluation Plan

- Desk study of material throughout project implementation
- Questionnaires for project partners and participants
- 4 visits with project partners to conduct interviews and observe activities
- Interim report (March 2014), final report (Jan/Feb 2015)
- Reporting to project partners at partners' meetings

Questions for reflection & conversation

- Does the project's theory of change apply equally in all countries and among all participating communities?
- What are the challenges in the selection of change agents and in terms of their involvement?